RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. The Library and Reading-Room shall on all secular days, be open and free to all citizens from 9 o'clock A. M. to 9 o'clock P. M., and on Sundays, for reading and references only, between the same hours.

2. The Librarian, under the direction of the Library Committee, shall have charge of the Library and Reading-Room, and the books and other public property therein. He is responsible for the safety of such books and property, and for the preservation of order in his department.

3. The Library and Reading-Room shall be closed on such days as the Library Committee may direct.

4. The use of tobacco, and all conversation and other conduct not consistent with the quiet and orderly use of the Reading-Room, is prohibited. A neglect to comply with this regulation, or disorderly conduct in either the Library or Reading-Room, will lead to the parties so doing forfeiting their rights to use the same.

5. Residents of Indianapolis are entitled to use the books of the Library upon registering their names and residences, and complying with either of the following conditions:

First. Giving satisfactory security in the form prescribed by the Board.

Second. Depositing three dollars, and in special cases such further sums as the value of the book asked for, may, in the judgment of the Librarian, require. For such deposit a receipt will be given.

6. The Library Committee has power to admit, for special reasons, to the use of the Library, persons not actual residents of Indianapolis.

7. Each person permitted to take books from the Library, will be supplied with a card with the name and residence. If this residence is changed, immediate notice must be given at the Library, and neglect to give this notice will subject the card holder to forfeiture of the card.

8. The holder of the card is entitled to one volume if octavo, and to two volumes of lesser size, being of the same work.

9. Books may be retained two weeks, and renewed for once only for the same period. The application for renewal must be made within the first fourteen days, and unless so made, the right to renew shall be forfeited. Books will not be allowed to be taken out and returned the same day for the purpose of obtaining the renewal of a book returned on that day.

10. Encyclopædias, dictionaries, other works of reference and illustrated books, and such others as may be considered, by the Committee, unsuitable for general circulation, can be used only in the building.

11. All injuries to books, beyond reasonable wear, and all losses, shall promptly be made good to the satisfaction of the Librarian.

12. Anyone withholding a book beyond the period limited in these rules, shall be fined three cents for each day over the time, and no other book shall be delivered until the fine is paid.

13. Books of recent purchase, labeled "Seven-day Book," shall not be retained more than one week, and can not be renewed.

14. Books withheld in violation of these rules, after proper notice to the delinquent, will be sent for, and to the fine will be added the expense of collection and serving notice. No book will be lent to the delinquent until such fines or charges are paid.

15. If any book is not returned within one month of serving notice, the Librarian shall proceed to collect, through the City Attorney, the value of the book, with accrued fines and other charges to date of payment.

16. Anyone abusing the privileges of the Library or violating these rules, shall be temporarily suspended from the enjoyment of these privileges; and the case shall be reported to the Committee for proper action thereon.

17. These regulations are subject to alteration, amendment or revision, at the pleasure of the Board of School Commissioners.

Approved March 21, 1873.

EXPLANATIONS.

In the following List, but one entry has been made of each work—generally under the name of the author. The exceptions to this rule are: anonymous works, whose authors are unknown; pseudonymous works, or works published under an assumed name, when the real names of the authors have not been ascertained; works published under the initials of the authors' name only; and collective works of a series.

In these exceptional cases, anonymous works are entered under the first word of the title, not an article; pseudonymous works, under the assumed name; works published under the authors' initials, under the initials, the last initial being put first; and, to facilitate reference, works of a series have an additional entry under the name of the series.

In the alphabetical arrangement, the prefix M', Mc, or Mac, is treated uniformly as if written Ma. Names preceded by Le, La, or L', are entered under L; by Du, or Des, under D; by de, or d', under the initial following this prefix. The prefix in English names is considered part of the surname.

Compound names are entered under the first part of the name. Noblemen are entered under their family names, reference being made to these under their titles.

A name in italics, enclosed in parenthesis, following an author's name, is the pseudonyme of such author.

The following abbreviations have been employed: P. D., public document room; L. R., librarian room; R. R., reading room. References to these departments are usually accompanied by a star (*), which denotes that the volume is not to be taken from the Library. A single dash indicates the omission of the preceding heading, followed by another the omission of a subordinate heading. Brackets in any part of title indicate that the words included in them are not found in the title, but are inserted.

Other abbreviations are: anon. for anonymous; pseud. or pseudon. for pseudonyme or pseudonymous; n. d. for no date; v. or vol. for volume or volumes; and the abbreviated designations of the sizes of volumes which have been made to conform to the rules of the American Library Association; these abbreviations are as follows:
